The Lutheran^{T.M.}

INDEX VOLUME 1/1988

Compiled by June Bauer

Arrangement

Author, subject and title entries are arranged in one alphabet. Each entry is marked by a ■. Each article is listed with the date of the issue in which it appeared, followed by the page number. For example, this article appeared in the Jan. 6 issue on page 22:

ELCA moves into Higgins Road offices

01/06/88 - 22

Articles listed within an entry are in chronological rather than alphabetical order. Where a person's name appears as an entry, it is either marked as author for a listing of articles written by that person, or if there is no (Author) notation, the person is a subject of the article(s) listed. There are also entries for the major types of articles (e.g., Profile, Reflection, etc.) and for regular features (e.g., Since You Asked, Viewpoint, etc.).

Obituaries published throughout the year in Deaths are listed alphabetically in a separate section in the back of the index with the date of death and issue date.

There is also a separate listing for Charts and Graphs published in The Lutheran in 1988.

Cross References

"See" references are made to direct the reader to the entry under which the information is listed or to a related topic.

Suggestions for use of The Lutheran in groups

Explore ways in which The Lutheran might be used by groups in the congregation. Because many synods and congregations provide every-home coverage, this publication offers numerous possibilities for group discussion and individual reading.

Congregational study groups that will find an article or series of articles in The Lutheran of value include:

■ Adult forums (focusing on topics such as the ELCA's first year, apartheid, the family, the homeless or using Don Juel's Bible study of Mark or Timothy Lull's study of the ELCA Confession of Faith);

■ Church councils or committees (pertinent articles for inspiration and insight);

■ Youth (topics for discussion at meetings, classes or retreats);

■ New members (articles such as George Forell's "Gimme that ol' time Reformation," Lull's study of the ELCA Confession of Faith, or Norma and Burton Everist's replies to reader's questions about faith and practice in Since You Asked);

■ Women of the ELCA (information about the mission of the church and discussion topics covering a wide range of subjects);

■ Stewardship and evangelism visitors (various articles on those subjects, including David Miller's "Energizing parish evangelism" and Bishop Herbert Chilstrom's "The security of tithing");

■ Family discussion (explore a specific article together).

Keep for reference

A suggestion. Keep a complete file of the 1988 issues handy for reference (and 1989 as well). Some church libraries bind a year's issues together with this index. Articles of special interest often become particularly valuable when a congregation undertakes a special emphasis or concern, such as the famine in Africa; learning about the new church, its new synods and regions; apartheid; the drought crisis; Lutheran relief and development efforts; or ecumenical activities. Members of congregations also should be encouraged to file their copies for future reference.
